Michael Ferguson of Jupiter Florida Announces HGTV Appearance

JUPITER, FL – February 3, 2011 - Michael Ferguson, a real estate broker in Palm Beach Florida, has announced his upcoming appearance on HGTV's popular show, House Hunters, tonight at 10pm EST.

According to HGTV Michael's home buyer, Tina, is looking for Palm Beach Real Estate "Tina is on her own for the first time in her life. After a recent divorce she decided to make a fresh start in Florida. She currently lives in a rental in the Palm Beach area, but she wants to buy a home in Jupiter for several reasons. It's a closer commute to her new job, she likes the laid back vibe people have in the area and the most important reason is Tina's new pal Cat lives there. She and her friend Cat will check out several homes that her broker Michael Ferguson has picked out. The biggest challenge is Tina is very particular and she knows what she wants. Can her broker find a place that has everything she wants? Find out as House Hunters travels to Jupiter, Florida."

Located in Palm Beach Florida, Michael Ferguson has represented buyers and sellers in the area for over ten years. Prior to his career in real estate, Michael was a military escort to both American Presidents Reagan and Bush. "It's more than just a real estate transaction or sale," said Michael "It's an important life decision and it's extremely important to have confidence in your real estate agent to act in your best interest."

Michael has also handled sensitive and confidential real estate transactions for exclusive Palm Beach homes, Palm Beach Island properties, and Palm Beach Garden Estates.
